

Homeowners and contractors are responsible for calling Miss Dig (dial 811) before initiating any excavations that might damage buried utilities. The responsible Utility companies will then mark the location of any utility systems. There is no charge to the homeowner or contractor for this service. See the Miss Dig website for complete information at <http://www.missdig.org>. This includes an email based form that a homeowner may use.